WHERE DISASTER STRUCK

From scenes like this, thousands of Newfoundlanders have fled their homes, sometimes in conditions described as "chaotic." This fire left houses on the shore in Carmanville, ringed by desolation typical of that created by scores of other fires in the northeastern part of the island province. One thousand square miles of forests have been destroyed and fires are still raging. (CP Photo)

FIRE DESTROYS LOGGING CAMPS

(Earlier story, Page 12)

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — High winds and severe lightning swept through the Kamloops forest district overnight, creating havoc for firefighters in the central British Columbia district and destroying two logging camps.

The winds that gusted to 50 miles an hour brought together two portions of a fire at Crooked Lake, 90 miles north of here, to create a blaze of 15,000 acres. The fire stretched for six miles along the shore of the lake.

Two logging camps, owned by H. J. Gardner and Sons Ltd., were destroyed after the men there escaped to safety.

Oil Drilling Boom in B.C.

By FRANK RUTTER

One of the biggest oil drilling programs ever to hit B.C.'s northland is now starting in the Boundary Lake field of the Peace River country.

UN WARNED

Tunisia Prepared To Fight

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Tunisia warned today that it will take steps to defend itself if the United Nations fails to force France to pull its troops back to positions held before the July fighting at Bizerte.

Tunisian delegate Mongi Slim told a special session of the UN General Assembly it would be dangerous to disregard what he called France's defiance of a Security Council resolution calling for the troop pull-back.

Leader in the big drilling program is Imperial Oil. The company definitely plans 42 wells this year, and may drill as many as 90 in the next seven months.

BIGGEST IN B.C.

"This is a tremendous boost in our program," said a company spokesman.

"Boundary Lake will be the biggest field in B.C.," he predicted.

He said a rough estimate is that Imperial will spend $1,250,000 on its program.

A number of other oil companies plan a total of 38 wells in the Boundary field.

Working with Imperial are Suncor-Rainbow, Pacific Petroleum and Calvan oil companies. Work is already under way on roads, flow lines and batteries, to feed the oil from the field to Taylor where the pipeline starts.

Northland Foothills Agreement—British American, Shell, Mobil and Texaco—plan eight wells; the tests are divided between Dome, Amerada, Sun, Sinclair, Hudson Bay and Union oil companies.

Premier Bennett was jubilant about the oil program.

"For every job in the field, they tell us six other jobs are created," he said.

Kenya Wants Kenyatta

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters) — Kenya's two chief Negro nationalistic parties have decided to link up in a government which will demand the appointment of convicted Mau Mau leader Jomo (Burning Spear) Kenyatta as this colony's chief minister, it was announced today.

There's some things — like a "big" football year — y'hev t' take Lion down.

'GOOD SENSE NEEDED' AS TRAVEL BAN OFF

B.C. Forest Service officials today gambled on the good sense of the vacationing public by permitting travel in a large part of Vancouver Forest District on the weekend.

Open to the public will be all of Vancouver Island from Bowser south, but campfire permits are rescinded.

For at least two days officials have been considering reimposition of a general closure, which still applies north of Bowser, but decided at noon to take a chance and let the public into the woods, despite high hazard conditions.

Warning Shots Fired by Reds

West Berliners Storm Truckload Of Russians as Tension Mounts

(Times News Services)

BERLIN — Communist guards fired warning shots to scare away about 30 West Berliners who had crowded to the barbed-wire barrier in the French sector to watch Red activity on the other side.

West Berlin police told of the incident at Frohnau: A Communist suddenly ordered: "Go back 100 metres (110 yards) or we will shoot." The crowd did not move. Then came a warning rattle of sub-machine-gun fire.

Western police persuaded the people to pull back for their own safety. The incident was another in outbursts of violence on both sides of the border that kept tension and tempers high in this 13th day of the border war of nerves.

For the first time since 1946 the U.S. Army garrison in Berlin has artillery support—six 105-millimetre howitzers. The crowd did not move. Then came a warning rattle of sub-machine-gun fire.

Western police persuaded the people to pull back for their own safety. The incident was another in outbursts of violence on both sides of the border that kept tension and tempers high in this 13th day of the border war of nerves.

In effect he promised not to attempt to take over controls until the end of the year—when Soviet Premier Khrushchev has said there will be such a treaty.

Speaking at a mass rally of invited party faithful in East Berlin, he said:

"In the opinion of all sensible people there must be negotiations soon over disposing of the remains of the Second World War, through the conclusion of a peace treaty so that peace will reign at last 16 years after the end of the war."

If the Western powers refuse to do this, he went on, then the negotiations would be limited to clearing out "nests of agents," the American radio and branches of the Bonn government from West Berlin" and "the regulation of transit traffic over the traffic routes of the East German Democratic Republic on land, water and in the air under the conditions of control through the state organs of the GDR."

In a series of incidents Thursday and Thursday night: A West Berlin mob attacked a bus loaded with Soviet soldiers. Saboteurs halted the Red-run railway and elevated system in the Western sector for 10 minutes. East German police shot and killed a fleeing refugee.

With orders to fire if fired upon, U.S. soldiers stood guard during the night in drenching rain close-up to the Communists' fortified line along with British and French forces and West Berlin police.

Brig.-Gen. Frederick O. Harrel, commander of the 6,500-man U.S. garrison in Berlin, toured the border in the American sector during the early morning hours. About 600 American troops—some with rifles slung over their shoulders, others behind machine-guns pointing to the east—maintained the night watch.

Chief forester Ed Ralph said: "We've thrown every piece of equipment, every man we could find into the battle, tried every tactic in the book and we've spared no expense. But our efforts have been in vain."

"It's impossible to cope with 55 and 60-mile-an-hour winds blowing flames through woods containing 25 to 30 cords to an acre. No man made of flesh and blood can stand in front of forest fires like that."

There was hardly a spot in eastern and central Newfoundland that wasn't ablaze or covered with smoke. Most of the burned forests contained black spruce, vital to the province's two newsprint mills.

Mr. Ralph, who made a helicopter tour of the major fires Thursday, said more than 1,000 firefighters on the job are ready to drop from exhaustion.

"They've reached the stage now where they are rapidly losing their mental and physical efficiency. We welcome any help we can get from the army, but it is my personal opinion we will require 2,000 rather than 200 men."

OTTAWA (CP)—Seven fire-fighting experts and eight foremen from the national parks service will fly immediately to Newfoundland to help fight the province's forest fires, Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced today.

"That requires a great deal of consideration, and a request would have to be made by the province."

Before the cabinet session, Mr. Diefenbaker said any further requests by Newfoundland Premier Smallwood for help would be given quick and sympathetic consideration by the federal government.

He said Premier Smallwood telephoned him Thursday night asking for the help of the army, and within an hour the order was made to dispatch 200 men by air from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

"The people of Newfoundland deserve every help because their troubles have filled the hearts of all Canadians with a deep sense of sympathy," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

200 TROOPS FIGHT WORST OUTBREAK

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Two hundred soldiers from Camp Gagetown, N.B., began moving into the Neil's Brook area of Newfoundland today to fight a forest fire which officials consider the most potentially dangerous in the province.

The soldiers began arriving at Gander, some 30 miles east of the Neil's Brook fire, aboard RCAF aircraft at midnight after Premier Smallwood declared a state of emergency Thursday and appealed to the federal government for aid.

At Dunn's River and Swift Current in the Puenta Bay area, fires calmed down overnight after destroying two fishing shacks on the outskirts, but today it was burning fiercely again.

At last report today it was two miles from the community of Swift Current and only one mile from a string of modern cabins and a diner owned by Jack Beck.

"It's real bad out there," said Mr. Beck.

He said the countryside was

'Hundreds of Little Hells' Racing

The situation was so bad that Resources Minister W. J. Keough asked Newfoundlanders to offer special prayers for rain. Flames galloped along at such a rate that one forestry official described them as "hundreds of little hells."

Chief forester Ed Ralph said: "We've thrown every piece of equipment, every man we could find into the battle, tried every tactic in the book and we've spared no expense. But our efforts have been in vain."

FISH KNOW YOU'RE THERE BUT REALLY DON'T CARE

HONOLULU (AP) — The salmon can smell a fisherman—or an enemy—a mile upstream, says Canadian biologist J. R. Brett of Nanaimo, B.C.

The scent of a human, bear, seal or sea lion in the waters upstream will stop a school of salmon—but not for long. Brett told scientists at the 10th Pacific Science Congress.

Brett said young salmon are born with the ability to use the sky as a compass. They can find their way to wherever they want to go. "How they know where they are when they start is the big question," he said.

FIVE IN FAMILY DEAD BY MURDER, SUICIDE?

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP) — Three children were found dead in their home Thursday shortly after their father and another child were killed in what police called a deliberate traffic crash.

Police said the children, Mary Frances Maguire, 14, and her brothers, Floyd, 13, and William, 12, appeared to have been gassed.

The father of the children, Wilfred J. Maguire, 32, and another son, Danny, 6, were killed when Maguire's car rammed the rear of a truck parked off a highway north of here.

Soft Drink Hard Blow For Wasps

Wasp traps which will catch hundreds of the yellow and black summer nuisances every day are to be found in every home, according to David Scholz, provincial bee inspector.

His advice: fill a soft drink bottle half way with water, add a teaspoonful of sugar, then wait for the wasps to catch themselves. They will enter the narrow neck of the bottle, he said, and be unable to escape.

This type of trap will not attract bees, which extract nectar, their raw material for honey, from flowers.

Quebec Policeman Shot to Death

CAP ST. IGNACE, Que. (CP) — Gerard Bernier, a 46-year-old Quebec Provincial Police patrolman, was shot and killed late Thursday while sitting on the front porch of his home.

Within two hours the QPP reported the arrest of Paul Bernier at nearby Montmagny, about 35 miles northeast of Quebec City, as a material witness in the case.

QPP Captain Rene Mercier said Paul Bernier was not related to the patrolman who died almost instantly. Gerard Bernier had two children.

Council tabled a reply by city manager C. C. Wyatt to earlier questions by Ald. Michael Griffin about the use of questions on origin and religion in civic employment application forms.

Mr. Wyatt said 28 nationalities with 19 religious affiliations were employed by the city, which he maintained refuted any suggestion of discrimination.

Aldermen passed a resolution commanding Victoria Machinery Depot on its initiative in acquiring an 800-ton hydraulic press which council said was bound to bring new business to the city's ship building industry.

Broken Leg For Passenger In Car Accident

A youth suffered a broken leg Thursday when the car he was riding in went out of control on a Saanich road and crashed.

Police said Michael Hubber, 19, of 114 Wildwood, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital at 7:40 p.m. after the car crashed on Tudor Road.

The driver, Sidney A. Ford, 20, of 980 Lodge, and another passenger, James Russell, 21, of 2605 Forbes, sustained minor injuries.

Police said the car went out of control in the 2900 block Tudor Road, and skidded 116 feet before hitting a fir tree.

The car was described as a total wreck.

CCF to Join NDP In Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP) — The Saskatchewan CCF party will affiliate with the New Democratic Party at the CCF Provincial convention in Regina Nov. 1-3. Premier T. C. Douglas said Thursday.

In this respect, it will be a founding convention for the NDP in Saskatchewan, the premier said.

However, the CCF party will continue to exist in Saskatchewan for provincial purposes at least until the next provincial election. Mr. Douglas said.

The Calculated Risk

IN DEVALUING THE CANADIAN dollar Mr. Fleming took a calculated risk. He knew that if the resulting fall in Canada's export prices were cancelled out by a rise in its production costs then the usefulness of devaluation would be cancelled, too. The nation would be back where it started from; or rather its position would be worsened since its import prices and cost of living would have been raised without corresponding gains in exports.

Recently this danger has appeared in various segments of the national economy where labor unions are demanding higher wages out of the expected increase in their employers' exports and profits.

For example, in the huge exporting mineral industry the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers are proposing a wide-spread wage increase of 10 per cent. The pulp and paper industry of British Columbia, which lives on exports, is locked in a wage dispute which may lead to a strike.

The same sort of cost acceleration may be expected in other industries, all of it based on the assumption that the devalued dollar somehow enables and, indeed, impels Canada to raise wages, costs and prices together.

This is a self-defeating assumption, as Mr. Fleming already has warned the managers and workers of industry. For if we reduce our export prices by devaluation, only to raise them again by raising costs of production at home, we shall be worse off than before—losing our new gains in world markets and penalizing our own consumers.

"It is obvious," says The Winnipeg Free Press, "that if the demands on lead, zinc and nickel producers spread through the export industries the short-term advantages on which Mr. Fleming counted will be wiped out. Of course, the same result might be achieved if management tried to use devaluation not to increase sales but to increase prices."

Only the moderation of management in seeking profits, and the moderation of labor unions in seeking wages, can possibly permit Mr. Fleming's experiment to succeed, can avoid the calculated risk of devaluation. Whether management and labor have sufficient intelligence to understand their own long-run interests, and the nation's, we shall begin to see during the next few months.

Meanwhile the indications are not encouraging. The reliable Financial Post, surveying the whole field of Canadian business, finds that after two years of relative stability, the nation's price structure has entered a new period of "ferment." Some prices are falling, others rising, but the general movement is clearly upward, though it has not yet worked its way through to the retail level.

"We can expect," says The Post, "a slow shift in the underlying trend toward higher prices at all levels," a definite advance on a broad front, and the economy "could be on the brink of the first major rise in wholesale and consumer prices since the 1955-57 boom."

If so, that is bad news for everybody—bad for the housewife who pays higher domestic prices, bad for exporters who must meet increasing price competition all over the world market, bad for workers whose jobs depend on the ability of business to sell its goods both at home and abroad, certainly bad for Mr. Fleming's hopeful experiment.

Canada Needs Research

DR. E. W. R. STEACIE, PRESIDENT of the National Research Council, believes Canada is lagging behind its foreign competitors in the whole field of scientific research.

"In the past," he says, "we have imported much of our technical knowledge from the United States and the United Kingdom but this is not a situation that we can accept as permanent. To maintain its position as an advanced industrial country, Canada must allocate to scientific research and development a proportion of our resources comparable to that allocated by other advanced countries."

This we are not doing now. Britain is carrying on about four times as much research as Canada and the United States five times as much. Undoubtedly this is one reason, among many, why Canada finds it difficult to compete with foreign producers in the production and sale of manufactured goods.

Delayed Holocaust

AΝ ASTRONOMER REPORTS that the light from an exploding sun has just reached the earth. The explosion would have annihilated any planets within reach. Travelling at 186,000 miles a second, the flare-up took 800,000,000 years to reach here. The bad news travelled fast, as the maxim has it, but it had a long way to come. Now the question is, if a second communiqué denies the first—as so often happens in the case of terrestrial reports of catastrophe—when may we expect to receive it?

The Welfare Muddle

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT Canada spends about $3 billions a year of public and private money on social and welfare services of many kinds. Yet even this huge sum leaves untouched many cases of hardship all over the country. What has gone wrong?

The Social Planning Council of Metropolitan Toronto recently studied this question and concludes that "services for the disabled have been provided in Toronto, as they have elsewhere, not necessarily in relation to the extent or seriousness of the problem but by the tradition of focusing on specific conditions."

In other words, The Toronto Globe and Mail explains, "many of the agencies operating in this field of welfare are concerned with a single type of illness or disablement, and their success in raising funds is governed by their skill in public relations, in dramatizing their cause, and not by the relative importance of their work in the community."

Thus some agencies attract large sums of money, from the limited pool available for welfare work, to deal with health problems which are not of first importance, or which may have been largely conquered by medical science. Other agencies, trying to cope with more serious problems, cannot get the funds they need. "There is," says The Globe and Mail, "wasteful distribution of welfare funds and consequent distress and hardship."

Such conditions may be especially bad in the Ontario metropolis and require, as The Globe and Mail urges, a general investigation by the provincial government. But the same sort of muddle and confusion will be found in all the other provinces, to greater or less degree. Surely three billion dollars, roughly equal to half the federal government's budget, can be spent more thrifitly, where it is needed most.

To the Death

POLITICAL AGITATION MAY take strange forms, and the delicate problem now facing India's Prime Minister Nehru would be hard to match.

A Sikh leader in Amritsar is in his second week of fasting, determined to fast until death or until Mr. Nehru relents and permits creation of a separate Sikh state. The death of the leader, if it occurs, is expected to inspire widespread disorders and rioting, and extra police armed with tear gas have been hurried to the city.

That is a problem in itself. But it has been compounded by the counter-fasts of two Hindu holy men, who are determined not to eat until Mr. Nehru proves that he will not yield to the Sikh demand.

Perhaps Mr. Nehru has some method of handling such situations. But it is interesting to speculate on how it would be met in London, say, or Washington. Or Ottawa.

"As An Ordinary Man In the Street, Sir, How Does It Feel to Be Caught Up In the Berlin Crisis?"

WHY NOT MOVE OUT?

A New Product from a New Environment?

ONE of the interesting sidelights of

Dr. Kiochko's press conference the other day was his complaint that it wasn't safe to walk around his neighborhood in Moscow at night because of the hoodlum gangs. A Westerner would have thought that with all the regimentation of law-abiding people in Russia, the authorities would have mastered the law-breakers too. If you have to work to eat in the Communist state, what do the hoodlums work at? Or eat?

You begin to get the idea that a big city is a big city anywhere in the world, regardless of ideological or other considerations. In other words, any huge conglomeration of humans, any metropolis, creates the breeding conditions for delinquency. For with size in a city you get slums. And with slums you get crime.

The remedy seems simple: To cut down crime you cut down slums, to cut down slums you cut down the size of your cities. But of course there are other aspects of the problem, and big cities seem to grow of their own accord much bigger than they need be.

A special article in the Toronto Telegram reveals what can happen when a city reaches the size of New York. With large numbers of Negroes arriving from the south, and even larger numbers of Puerto Ricans crowding into the city, a large slum area has been created to spawn hoodlums.

This is a good beginning but it may not go far enough. After experience with the new tax regulations industry may properly urge their expansion, provided it is ready to spend money on the intensive study of improved manufacturing methods. For they will certainly be needed if Canada is to keep abreast of the scientific advance throughout the world.

But research costs money and if industry is to undertake it on a sufficient scale government should encourage it by appropriate tax policies.

The Diefenbaker government has wisely decided, in Mr. Fleming's words, to give research "a top priority of urgency and importance." To this end tax concessions are now allowed to cover "scientific research" of a "capital nature."

This is a good beginning but it

YOUTHFUL criminal careers aren't necessarily the fault of the teenagers, either, when you consider the conditions into which they are born. One Harlem teacher of Third Grade classes says that most of her pupils do not know who their fathers are—or they get a new father every few months.

With several families crowded into one apartment, the streets provide the only recreation space for young people. On the streets you have to belong to a gang or you are fair game for everyone. The gangs fight each other for revenge, for advantage or for fun.

There are 200 gangs, and many of them have girls' auxiliaries. New York is paying out $5 million a year to try to cope with its 11,000 gang members—of whom some 3,000 are teenage girls.

Among the latter, a Youth Board official reports, the chief problems are "promiscuity, prostitution, out-of-wedlock pregnancy and venereal disease."

Drugs are an increasing problem. One out of five of the hoodlums are believed to be involved.

Continental War

THE GANGSTERISM even spreads out of the slum areas into well-to-do white districts... The big "rumbles" occur several times a month, but shootings, stabbings and chain lashings are going on all the time.

That is the substance of the Telegram's report. The facts are not new; they have appeared in various guises many times.

Vancouver has recently had an outbreak of juvenile hoodlumism—not on the New York scale but demonstrating a dismaying trend to violence and irresponsibility.

When you reflect that the elements of our civilization are such that only lack of size in a community prevents the rise of the problem, it seems that a remedy for this should become the primary objective of any community. Like the attainment of a "critical mass" in the atomic bomb, the growth of a man-mass seems to produce an explosion after a certain point. Capitalism and communism appear to be equally vulnerable.

Fifth Column

NEW YORK is making great efforts to influence and direct its young population through youth counsellors who mingle with the neighborhood gangs and try to win their confidence. The results are promising, within limits.

But if it is the environment that is ruining youth, and the city environment cannot be radically changed, why not remove the teenagers from the city and place them where the external influences would be wholly good?

Since so many of them are homeless and parentless there would be no family hardship involved. And a new start in life for them might avoid the terrible crop of adult hoodlums that the current crop of juvenile hoodlums will grow into. New York might use its $5 millions a year to better purpose on farm or village rehabilitation projects, than in trying to wash mud off victims who are still in the mudhole.

When wartime bimbos threatened big cities, the young were moved to safety. The peacetime danger seems worse.

As Our Readers See It

Question of Semantics

In current extensive radio advertising the announcer is very plainly saying that the new B.C. parity bonds "can be sold at any time at the price paid for them, that is, parity."

To whom are they to be sold? If B.C. intends, as it says it does, to REDEEM the bonds at par that is different, but the word SOLD should not be used for if the bonds are sold on the market the B.C. government cannot dictate the price, which will fluctuate as any other bonds do with the rate of interest.

If the rate of interest goes up the bonds will be unsaleable except at a lower price. If the B.C. government is willing and has the money to REDEEM them that is different.

The rate of interest on money fluctuates widely. If it should go higher than 3 per cent for provincial bonds who will want B.C. bonds at a fixed 5 per cent?

If the government intends to stand ready at all times to redeem these bonds it should use the word "redeem" and not talk of "selling."

JOHN KENNY STRAHAN, P.O. Box 84.

(Editor's note: The bonds will "fluctuate as any other bonds do" only above par. No holder will sell on the market for less than he can get by turning his bond in at a bank.)

Goodwill Ambassadors

"Oh, you're going to the Red Army Chorus at the Arena," said the man on the bus. "Well, do you know, if we only had enough of this sort of culture exchange our national hates and prejudices would go down the drain." And as we wound our way out along the corridors of the Arena few there would have disagreed with him. Actually, in spite of previews, one was caught unaware, held prisoner by the sheer artistry of the performers.

Unexpected was their rare interpretation of harmony, all the way from wistful, muted melody to gathering-storm crescendo. Then, sudden, clear-cut cymballed climax, exotic hinting of the Orient. Equally unexpected, the impact of the dancers with their incredible twistings and turnings, buoyancy of movement, open enjoyment of their own achievement. It almost seemed as they gyrated through space that they were emulating their own Sputniks.

One item not down on the program and already commented on in the Times columns, was the wordless message of goodwill and friendliness conveyed to the audience all the way through. That this gesture was reciprocated by the crowd was amply demonstrated.

To the performers, each one in that vast crowd was, by his very presence in such times of stress, an ambassador of goodwill, even as the performers, to the crowd, were likewise goodwill ambassadors. Just naturally, one wonders why such goodwill should be confined to such a limited area as the arena and whether this spirit of friendliness could be extended in some measure at least to the arena of the world outside.

It's out of place here to do more than suggest that something in that direction is already embodied in proposals for the creation of a demilitarized zone in Central Europe, the hot spot in the cold war. It is thought that the establishment of such a buffer zone, very roughly related to the original Rapacki Plan, might well serve to help solve the Berlin problem—that even partly successful, it might become, in time, a place where men, meeting together as friends, could give their national prides and prejudices a holiday.

'Captive' Investors

The lack of reaction to Mr. Bennett's latest coup indicates that the public is stunned. It is possible that this is an over-optimistic analysis because it is quite probable that no one is specially interested. Since we are all now "captive" investors in Mr. Bennett's enterprises we should show more than passing concern with our president and board of directors."

There is, of course, nothing unusually alarming about the creation of a public monopoly for the production and distribution of electric power. Where enterprise cannot readily be made competitive there is much to be said for public ownership or more properly, state ownership. If, however, anyone is still interested in freedom and the limitation of powers wielded by individuals, it is time he decided just how much "statism" he is prepared to tolerate.

Mr. Strachan's advocacy of state ownership is at least consistent and though one may consider it deplorable it is praiseworthy compared to the protagonists of private enterprise who have shown themselves to possess no principles at all except those of expediency. Mr. Bennett has admitted that the federal government would not share the tax income from B.C. Electric. Mr. Bennett evidently needs money for Mr. Bennett's so-called self-liquidating debt (indirect of course) is turning out to be rather solid.

Mr. Scurrah may admire the operation of the ferries if he wishes but if they and one or two other toll enterprises are to liquidate the obligations of the Toll and Highway Authority they will have to do more than just pay a profit on operations. Our mayor did not read far enough when he praised government enterprise. Had he done so he might have noticed that the PGE and the B.C. Power Commission lost over three million dollars. The PGE most of it. This is not a suicidal amount for a government enterprise but it's a distressing distance from liquidating any debts.

It is quite an idea to sell power over the border to make money for the government, specially a government given to borrowing millions without owing anything. If government ambition happens to outrun discretion—and it has—there will be an irresistible temptation to sell more power. Some day someone in B.C. might want some power and might have some difficulty getting it.

Mr. B. and his party are specialists in red herrings and circumlocution. H. E. MAKOVSKI, 1538 Beach Drive, Victoria, B.C.

War in the Air

OVERSEAS AVIATION'S financial troubles are evidence of the tough competition that rages for cut price holidays and travel nowadays. Mr. Ronald Mayhill, chairman of Overseas Aviation, who are to go into voluntary liquidation, says "Independent airlines have been on a razor's edge with holiday tour rates for some time... The contracts with travel operators for this year were fixed at rates that were too low to be economic."

BUT IT IS PRECISELY THESE LOW RATES THAT HAVE NOURISHED THE APPETITE OF YOUNG BRITAIN TO GET FAR AWAY AND FAST FROM THE ANTIQUE P

Mongolism in Infants

So many people have asked me where they can find a book on mongolism in retarded infants that I am glad to say that one now is available. It was written by Dr. Clemens E. Benda, director of research at the Fernald State School, at Waverly, Mass. It is a book of 276 pages published by Grune and Stratton, N.Y. City, and it costs $9.50. It is technical and written for physicians, but much of it, I think, will be understandable to an intelligent layman. The book contains a wealth of information on the lack of proper development of the brain and some of the other organs of the body.

If only the unhappy parents of these children could see and understand Dr. Benda's descriptions of the marked failure in the development of the brains of these children, they would see clearly why no one can hope to "cure" these unfortunate children and give them a normal intelligence. The little brain just did not develop as it should have done, and as yet, we doctors have no medicine that will make an undeveloped brain go on to grow to normal size and complexity.

I am much interested to see that Drs. Benda and Bowman observed what I have noted so often in these cases, and this is that the mother of the child was more or less disturbed mentally. The percentage of cases in which there is mental disease or alcoholism in the family rises rapidly if one inquires into the status, not only of the mother but all of the known relatives.

Dr. Benda, like most other experts on the cause of mongolism, is most interested in one thing and that is the age of the mothers of these children. This age averages 10 years higher than that of mothers of normal children. What many men forget is that about a fourth of the mothers of mongoloid children are under 29 years of age. Obviously then, there must be another cause besides "the bid and tired womb." Dr. Benda says that a hereditary-genetic cause can be ruled out, but this is impossible for me to accept, if only because there have been a number of families in which three or four mongoloids have shown up.

Alvarez

To my way of thinking, there isn't yet a paper on heredity of mongoloids that is worth anything, and there will not be one until some person comes along open-minded enough and curious enough to describe all of the strange nervous abnormalities that have shown up in all of the near relatives of a hundred mongoloids.

So long as men look only for more mongoloids in the family of a mongoloid they will seldom learn much.

One of the most distressing of the chronic diseases of children is muscular dystrophy, and this is why sometimes I tell here of the organizations that are now trying to learn something about this disease. I was just reading of the Liberty Muscular Dystrophy Foundation. Sallie and Nadine Woods tell parents they should suspect a muscular dystrophy whenever a child begins to fall down without any clear reason.

Eventually, when he falls he can't easily get up by himself. Also, he stands markedly sway-backed, and when he gets up, he climbs up his legs. He may eventually have trouble rolling over in bed, and may have to be in a wheelchair or stay in bed. Parents should be alert for signs of muscular dystrophy when the disease runs through the family. It is well to remember that with all familial diseases, the tendency often shows up in a different or a milder or a hard-to-recognize way in certain members of the family. There are several types of muscular weakness. The disease attacks only boys, but it can be transmitted through a mother. The muscles most affected are around the shoulders and the hips. Fortunately, those in the hand commonly escape injury. In one type of the disease, the muscles grow unusually large, but they still are too weak. They are big because they are full of fat.

The chemical changes in the muscles which produce contraction now are being studied with great care. Much of the trouble is due to an abnormality in the chemistry of a substance called creatine. There is less than the normal daily excretion in the urine of a substance called creatinine. This easily can be detected by a laboratory man. A special ferment, called a transaminase, appears to be lacking. When a child begins to show signs of weakness in his muscles, he ought quickly to be studied by a neurologist who can perhaps say just what type of disease he is coming down with.

UP TO 2,000 SWITCH JOBS TO W. BERLIN

BERLIN (AP)—About 12,500 West Berliners were drawing their pay from East Berlin two weeks ago, but between 1,500 and 2,000 have switched to jobs in West Berlin since Communist barricades went up across the divided city.

About 4,000 West Berliners still commute to the east each day—theatrical people, shop, office and factory workers.

Most of the others on Communist payrolls are employees of the Communist-run railway system whose jobs are in stations and yards in the West. They rarely cross over to East Berlin except to collect their pay cheques.

Toronto Rallies To Finish Ahead

Rallying in the final hour, Molybdenite and Jupiter advanced 11-16. Shawinigan lost 1/2 and Eureka 13/2.

Foods were hit as Loblaw A and B, Weston A and B, Burns, Hardee Farms and Dominion Stores all suffered losses. Other losses were scattered across the board and went to International, Eddy Paper A, MacMillan-Bloedel, St. Lawrence, Bank of Montreal and Bank of Commerce.

New York market was irregular in moderate trading. Gains and losses of fractions to a point spotted the list of key stocks.

AT TORONTO liquors were strong with Molsons B ahead 1/2 to a new top of 29% while the A issue equalled its high with a rise of a point. Canadian Breweries and Distillers Seagram's rose 1/2 and 1/4 respectively.

International Nickel, Gunnar Ventures and Falconbridge all lost about 75 cents, while Opemiska, Denison and Hudson Bay had smaller falls in a generally depressed senior base metals list.

Gold trading was light with McIntyre Porcupine down 1% and small falls going to Hollinger and Kerr-Addison.

In light western oil trading, Home A and B and Dome lost as much as 10 cents.

AT NEW YORK among Canadian issues Walker Gooderham advanced 1/2 and Distillers Seagrams and Dome Mines 1/2. McIntyre Porcupine was down 1%, International Nickel 1/2, Aluminum Ltd. 1/2, Hudson Bay Mining 1/2.

Prices on the American stock exchange continued generally higher in moderate trading.

AT VANCOUVER the market was quiet during the morning. Prices showed little change. Fort St. John was at $1.80. Bethlehem Copper traded at $1.05. Canam went at 19 1/2. Friday Mines was between 40 and 42. Giant Mascot went at 62. MacMillan-Bloedel sold at $17 1/2. Trans Canada Pipe traded at $21 1/2.

Reds Hit Back

'Secret Weapon' Helps Cincinnati Snap Giant Climb

San Francisco Giants know today how it feels to be hit by a bench—the Cincinnati Reds' bench.

It's been the Reds' secret weapon all season and manager Fred Hutchinson used it Thursday night when another loss to the Giants might have given Cincinnati a severe case of pennant jitters. He inserted shortstop Leo Cardenas and first baseman Dick Gernert into the lineup and bingo... bang went the Giants' nine-game winning streak.

Cardenas, a 22-year-old Cuban shortstop, delivered two doubles and a single to drive in three runs, and Gernert, a bulked-up castoff of several clubs, connected for two singles and drove in a key-run in an 8-5 victory that restored the Reds' National League lead to 3½ games.

The loss didn't exactly wipe out the Giants' hopes of a "miracle pennant" but it did tilt them five games off the NL pace. In fact, the Giants are still a game and a half behind the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers, whose 10-1 loss to St. Louis Cardinals extended their longest losing streak since 1944 to 10 games.

Tigers Tenacious

Detroit Tigers—who deserve a medal for tenacity even if they don't win a pennant—picked up a game on the first-place New York Yankees in the American League when they beat Cleveland Indians, 6-0. The defending champions bowed to Los Angeles Angels, 5-4.

Warren Spahn won the 303rd game of his major league career as Milwaukee Braves beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-1, and Philadelphia Phillies downed Chicago Cubs, 7-4, in the other NL games.

Minnesota Twins topped the Chicago White Sox, 3-0; Boston Red Sox shaded Washington, 5-4, and Kansas City beat Baltimore, 5-3, in the other AL games.

Cardenas singled in the first and fourth innings to start the Cincinnati rally and came through with a three-run double in the seventh. Gernert also contributed a run-scoring single to the Reds' three-run fourth inning. The win went to Jim O'Toole, who has won seven of his last nine decisions and now has a 13-9 record.

'M Boys' Muzzled

Joe Koppe drove in four runs with two doubles as the Angels beat the Yankees for the sixth time in nine games at Los Angeles. Roger Maris went hitless in four tries and Mickey Mantle had only a single in four attempts as the Yankee sluggers lost ground in their bid to top Babe Ruth's home run record of 61 in a season.

Frank Lary pitched a four-hitter and won his 19th game for the Tigers. It was the fifth straight win for Lary and the sixth in seven games for the Tigers.

Spain yielded 10 hits but left 10 runners stranded in winning his 15th game of the season.

Don Demeter's three-run homer climaxed a six-run second-inning rally that paved the way for the Phillies' third straight win.

Jim Kaat pitched a five-hitter for his first big league shutout over the White Sox.

Jackie Jensen's 10th-inning homer was the decisive blow for the Red Sox, who had tied the score at 4-4 with a two-run shot by Jensen in the sixth.

Mrs. Vaio Wins

Silver division of a ladies' par competition at Royal Colwood Thursday was won by Mrs. H. E. Vaio, who finished all square.

Mrs. W. G. Smith won the bronze division two up, followed by Mrs. R. Owen.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Charles O. Finley is in hot water with baseball commissioner Ford Frick. Frank Lane has agreed to remain over the weekend as "a consultant" for the Kansas City Athletics, and it appears that the franchise will stay here for at least one more season.

BUT NOT IN WINNIPEG

'Road' Feeling Fine—On Road!

WINNIPEG (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos made their only scheduled appearance of the Western Football Conference season at Winnipeg Stadium Thursday night, handed the Bombers a 35-20 defeat and kept their unbeaten record intact.

A sellout crowd of 19,660 saw the Eskimos overpower Bombers in the final quarter to hand Winnipeg its first loss in five starts.

Coach Bud Grant's strategy of providing a "road" atmosphere for his players before the game by quartering them in a hotel failed to produce the necessary magic.

Edmonton's versatile Jackie Parker ran wild against the Bombers, scoring 17 points to take over the western scoring leadership from teammate Johnny Bright, who was held to one touchdown. Parker got a touchdown, three field goals and two converts.

WINNIPEG FADES

Edmonton scored two converted touchdowns in the final quarter and wound up with a field goal in the last second of play.

Roger Hagberg, rookie fullback from Minnesota, led the Bomber scorers with two touchdowns, with Ray Janch getting the other. Fullback Gerry James converted two of them. Joe-Bob Smith got two touchdowns to round out the Edmonton scoring.

WINNIPEG'S quarterback Kenny Ploen, suffering from a bruised shoulder, stayed out of the game as Hal Ledyard, veteran import playing his first season in Winnipeg, took over both offensively and defen-

JOKERS AREN'T HAPPY OVER LACROSSE RULING

Victoria Jokers, Vancouver Island's senior "B" lacrosse champions, are frothing at the mouth: Jokers, who play Vancouver Calder Bluebirds this weekend in a two-game, total-point series for the coast crown, have been informed that two of their top performers are ineligible for further provincial playoffs.

Jokers are appealing the B.C. Lacrosse Association ruling against Bill Munroe and Gary Zilkie. If the appeal is refused, Jokers will pick up Billy Wilson from Foul Bay Tugmen for the series that starts Saturday in Vancouver.

Sitting on the Fence Won't Help Situation

By ERNIE FEDORUK
It was a grand idea while it lasted, but the formation of a Victoria team for entry into a Pacific Coast junior "A" hockey league isn't any closer to reality today than it was two months ago.

Victoria, which was instrumental in fanning the junior hockey flame, now is watching others fan the fire.

The Greater Victoria Minor

Hockey Association announced Thursday it will form a junior team, but "it won't enter the new Coast league until it is certain there are enough good players to make a creditable showing."

The team may enter an all-Vancouver Island league, or will play exhibition games only.

As an alternative, the Island league is a good idea. But that is not what is wanted. The Coast league is the best idea, and it should not be ignored by Victoria without some added effort.

Junior hockey is interesting. Juniors lack the polish of professionals, but because of that junior hockey is always exciting.

HOW THEY STAND

Several coast centres have been mentioned as potential starters, but this is how the embryo league shapes up (as recorded in the minutes of last week's Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Association meeting and reported by president Ivan Pantone of Victoria):

- Victoria, no sponsor.
- New Westminster, definitely will field a junior "A" team even if the Royal City is the only centre in B.C. to do so.
- Nanaimo, not interested except in only an all-Vancouver Island setup.

Kerrisdale, interested in only a mainland league. Kerrisdale officials said later they could be persuaded to change their minds about travelling to the Island.

- Chilliwack, ready to go.
- Chilliwack Army, equally willing.

BURNABY WILLING

Burnaby also sought entry, but was refused on the grounds that its rink is too small. Burnaby officials are now checking into the possibility of playing home games in Kerrisdale.

Esquimalt went on record as willing to enter an Island league, but arena manager Joe Innarelli later altered his views after learning of the Victoria situation.

"As a result of Victoria's decision," said Innarelli, "Esquimalt is definitely interested in fielding a junior "A" team."

"We're very sincere about this," Innarelli said. "As a matter of fact, I'm so sincere that you can mention that the team's first practice will be held Sept. 24."

PLAYERS WANTED

Innarelli is now looking for juvenile and junior age players. "If these boys are interested in playing junior hockey, I wish they would contact me right away. I would like to get an idea of what material is available."

The Victoria situation is up in the air, it seems, only because a sponsor is lacking.

The idea of a junior entry was first submitted by Memorial Arena manager Jack Morgan. His early statements may have been misinterpreted but they led one to believe that the Arena would (a) find a sponsor, or (8) organize a team itself.

The minor association then became interested, but at the weekend declared it would not undertake sponsorship of a junior team that travels to the mainland.

Now the alternative plan is being offered.

Injury-Prone Art Mighty Surprised

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Art Wall Jr., hampered by physical ailments since being named "golfer of the year" in 1959, grabbed the first-round lead Thursday in the 72-hole, $50,000 American Golf Classic with a three-under-par 67.

Five birdies and a late round letdown by Bob Goalby helped Wall lead the field over the tough Firestone Country Club course.

Goalby, who birdied three of the four par-three holes, came to the 17th three-under-par. He three putted the 17th and missed a 12-foot birdie putt on the 18th to drop into a three-way tie for second among Frank Boynton and Billy Maxwell.

Having had a series of ailments including kidney difficulties, a knee injury, back trouble and a rib injury, Wall said after his excellent round he was "mighty surprised" over his score.

Aside from the top four, the only others to bust par were Ted Kroll, Houston LeClair Jr. and Ken Venturi. They were tied with 69.

British open champion Arnold Palmer, Al Balding of Toronto, Don January, Jim Ferrier, Rex Baxter Jr., and Jay Hebert all matched par 70.

Masters champion Gary Player managed a 71 when he birdied the 18th after hooking his drive behind trees.

Another 18-hole round will be played with a cutoff point of the 90 low scorers and ties.

Victoria Mare Returns $39 At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Milady Please, a game six-year-old mare owned by Victoria's Norman Lever, provided the day's biggest upset in winning the seventh race at Vancouver's Exhibition Park.

Esquimalt went on record as

Borrowed Gun Bags $6,500 at Vandalia

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Elbert Lesley, a 42-year-old real estate salesman from Reading, Ohio, borrowed a shotgun on Thursday and won about $6,500 in the $2nd Grand American trapshoot.

Lesley, who had never fired at a registered target until March of this year, broke 100 targets in a row from 20 yards to win the preliminary handicap—only the seventh perfect score in the event's 62-year history.

He borrowed the gun from his hunting partner, Ed Doyle, of Reading, who tied for the title a year ago but lost it in a shoot-off.

In defeating a field of 1,968, Lesley picked up the top prize of $1,000 and about $5,500 in other awards.

James Lannanin, of Newark, Ohio, and Donald C. Fisher, of Cincinnati, tied for second with 99 hits. Lannanin shot from 22 yards and Fisher from 21.

Dr. George Genereux, of Saskatoon, had the maximum handicap of 27 yards and scored a 95. James Grgulic, of Saskatoon, also scored a 95, firing from 21 yards.

SOLUTION MONDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD—Hootin' around Hollywood, I found that Red Buttons' camp followers believe he will be up for an Oscar in '62. They say he's magnificent in "Hatari," the Jayne Wayne picture made in Africa; that he's "a Jewish Walter Brennan." Wouldn't it be remarkable if Red, who first burst on most of the American public as a TV star, were to become so great in pictures that they offered him his own TV show—again?

Polly Bergen gave me a big kiss... when she came into the Beverly Hills Hotel Polo Lounge. She was happy, I think, because she and husband Freddie Fields had just bought a beautiful home here. Polly says she's sad about leaving "To Tell the Truth," but she has a thought about that. With Mois Hart and Kitty Carlisle due here in the fall, why doesn't "To Tell the Truth" move out here? Then, figures Polly, she could have her Holly wood and her TV, too.

Yul Brynner, the hand-kisser, has bought a penthouse in a new Paris apartment building going up opposite the Hotel George V—and on clear days he'll be able to look down on American tourists stopping

Colonel Tom replied: "The billing may not have been so good but the money was..." It's hard to believe that Sal Mineo's now 22 and finishing his 14th picture... George "Bullets" Durnin, the personal manager, is the envy of the auto bugs with his new Jaguar XK-E, first one in the movie colony. THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN NEW YORK... Mitzi Gay-

In there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by our readers and those who submit the question he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Judith Kathol, age 10, of Sioux City, Iowa, for her question:

What causes warts?

Our parents and grandparents had warts when they were boys and girls. This has been so for countless generations, for the tufty little bumps of skin seem to be especially fond of children. In the old days, the only known cure was a double whammy. That is to say, people tried to charm their warts away with a very strong wish and perhaps a few angry words. Sometimes the warts went away after this wishful thinking, but usually they took their own sweet time to disappear and went only when they were good and ready.

Nowadays, of course, we do not waste time and strong words by trying to charm away these pesky visitors. Our doctors know a few tricks for getting rid of warts in a hurry. Otherwise, if left alone without irritation, the tough wart appears.

Soap and Water Best Cure

One other factor may play a part in the birth of a wart. Many warts are caused by infections—and the best defense against these small viruses and bacteria is chemical warfare.

More Noise Coming

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCAF has started a program to impress on Canadians the necessity of increased aircraft noise that will accompany this country's switchover to supersonic planes.

In this area, Andy has what he thinks is a logical suggestion. Most warts appear on the hands, and the hands of a busy young person are always in and out of a lot of dirty projects—which is right and proper.

Virus and bacteria, however, tend to thrive in soil and grime and, let's face it, just plain dirt—all the things that make our projects so fascinating. The chemical warfare you can use to fight these infections is a real old timer and was readily available in Grandpa's day. All you need is a cake of soap, plenty of warm water and a rough towel. A thorough hand scrubbing after every dirty job tends to remove wart-causing germs before they can set up housekeeping in the skin.

Another precaution is first aid for all cuts, scratches and bruises, no matter how small they are. You can now buy iodine which does not sting and the newest bandages are skin-clear stick-ons that are waterproof and invisible. If a wart appears, it too should be treated and bandaged. However, if there are lots of them or if one becomes inflamed or refuses to wither in a week or two, you should take the problem to a doctor.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The trouble with antique shops is that their prices are so moderate.

Danny Thomas tells of the fellow who met his wife at a wedding. He'd thought she was home with the kids... That's early, brother.

How does a cricket chirp?

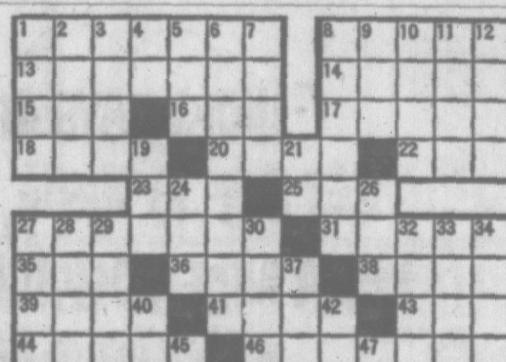

The cricket sings his cheerful song with, of all things, his wings. His crisp front wings fold over his back with the right wing lapped way over the left wing. Each wing has a hard vein, raised in a ridge and fitted with tiny teeth like a file. Each wing also has a ridged edge like a scraper.

The chirrup is made by rubbing the scraper on either wing against the file on the other wing. Mr. Cricket is the musician of the family. Mrs. Cricket merely listens—and most amazing, her little ears are in the joints of her spindly front legs.

Police Aid Asked Against Pickets

(From Times News Services)

VANCOUVER — Police were called as escorts Thursday by a company manager who said he was afraid to leave his job while two strikers picketed outside.

Steve Dennis, manager of a strikebound warehouse of Taylor, Pearson and Carlson (B.C.) Ltd., said two policemen talked to the pickets while he drove his car from the building and went home.

The retail, wholesale and department store union has been on strike at four Vancouver branches of the wholesale distributing company chain since July 17 in support of wage increase demands.

Mr. Dennis said he was "scared to leave" the warehouse where he has been alone on duty, because on Wednesday night a fist-sized rock smashed through a window of his home.

VERNON — The first civil defence exercise of its kind in Canada, involving more than 800 regular army and militia units and 700 civil defence workers, will be staged here Sept. 30.

The display will feature an army mobile survival column reinforced by civil defence units re-entering a target city which supposedly had been hit by a nuclear weapon.

'VIGILANTES' WANTED

VANCOUVER — Vancouver Centre Progressive Conservative MP Douglas Jung today urged establishment of a citizens' committee to press for tougher laws and tougher enforcement to deal with hoodlums.

He said such an organization could push for stiffer sentences; seek a lowering of the juvenile court limit to 16 from 18 years and probe police force strengths and weaknesses.

VANCOUVER — Liberal Leader Ray Perrault said Thursday Canadian democracy will always be second on third-

Fence Only Thetis Lake Solution

Victoria will have to erect a fence around its 1,800-acre Thetis Lake property and post signs every 300 feet to keep hunters out, a provincial official suggested Thursday.

Conservation officer Jack Lenfestey said the fence and signs would be requirements under the Game Act if the city wished to bar hunters.

His observations came as city officials debated effects of a provincial government decision withdrawing the game reserve on half of the city-owned property which had kept hunters out in the past.

NO QUESTION

City engineer J. C. Garnett said there was no question in his mind that hunting still could be banned because it was private property held by the city.

However, other city officials felt that enforcement of a private ban would be much more difficult to enforce than a provincial game reserve.

Way Cleared For Wengren Land Sale

NASSAU (CP) — Swedish financier Axel Wenner-Gren moved ahead with a $14,000,000 real estate deal Wednesday after a court turned down a claim by a 100-year-old woman. Mrs. Roseliza Price had blocked the deal with a petition claiming ownership of a 10-acre strip bisecting the property on Hog Island off Nassau.

The strip, extending from sea to sea, was valued at $115,600.

Wenner-Gren earlier announced negotiations to sell the island to Huntington Hartford for development as a resort.

Hartford is a United States heir to a supermarket fortune.

The court upheld his documentary evidence showing the island including the strip had been in his possession or the possession of his predecessors as far back as 1920.

It was ruled that Mrs. Price's evidence failed to show continuous possession nullifying squatters rights. She said she had control of the property for 70 years.

INDIAN GOV'T CHIEF SLAIN BY TRIBESMEN

SHILLONG, India (AP)—A group of educated jungle tribesmen named Nagas, who are fighting for independence from India, have killed the head of a new state government which India created in hopes of winning their support.

Dr. Imkongliba Ao died Thursday at the Army Hospital in the Naga Hills in the Tuensang area of East India, according to reports reaching Shillong, capital of Assam. He had been shot Tuesday by a person who escaped into the jungle.

This was the third attempt on the life of the loyalist Nagas who are supporting the Indian government.

Last February he was named president of the Naga interim council which would prepare the area for statehood.

VANCOUVER—Hundreds of the University of British Columbia's 12,000 student body face a financial squeeze when the new college year opens this fall.

For some it may mean postponing or even giving up plans for continuing their education.

UBC officials say those hardest hit are students who must earn to learn. Because of the tight employment situation it is estimated some 2,000 students who would ordinarily earn at least part of their college fees couldn't find summer jobs this year.

LONDON (Reuters) — G. Ward Price, the elder statesman of British foreign correspondents, died Tuesday in a nursing home at the age of 75. Price was the first journalist ever granted an audience with Emperor Hirohito of Japan.

Fire Crisis Takes Turn For Better

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) — Forestry officials in the northern British Columbia forest areas Thursday night expressed optimism for the first time in two weeks.

A lull in new outbreaks, they said, may brighten chances of bringing major blazes ripping through both valuable and immature timber stands under control.

Thursday there were 363 forest fires in the province under attack from an army of 3,517 men with bulldozers and 46 aircraft. Forestry officials estimated the timber loss so far in the vicinity of $1,000,000 a day.

Firefighters in the giant Prince George district today hope to close a guard around an outbreak on the southeastern corner of the 45,000-acre Grove blaze, 12 miles east of this northern city.

LIGHTNING SETS FIRES

A series of lightning strikes swept through the southern section of the Prince Rupert forest district late Thursday and touched off six new fires within a 60-mile radius of Smithers.

Forest service officials said the weary fire crews are unable to cope with the rash of fires. The 67 fires burning in the district have exhausted the supply of experienced woodsmen needed to replace tired crews.

Grab FM Band Before U.S. Does—Parrett

OTTAWA (CP)—The Board of Broadcast Governors was urged Thursday to allot frequency modulation channels to Canadian radio stations "before our American friends crowd us off the dial."

The appeal came from Roy Parrett, president of radio station CFAX, Victoria, in his application for an FM licence for his daytime station.

He said CFAX was rushing into FM broadcasting earlier than it wanted to because United States stations are gobbling up the available frequencies and there soon will be none left for Canadian points near the border.

Mr. Parrett said there are 20 FM stations in the Seattle region, many of them with signals going into Victoria. It was imperative for his station to move into FM now before it was too late.

CFAX wants to transmit simultaneously on FM and standard AM wavelengths during the daytime hours, with separate FM programming at night. Its application is being opposed by CJVL. Several broadcasters appearing at the current BBG hearings have predicted that the future of radio broadcasting lies in the FM field.

Doubt Cast On Brother's Murder Yarn

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP) — Delmar O'Brien, 61, Thursday cast doubt on his brother's story to a reporter of involvement in the death here 42 years ago of Michael Legge. Mr. O'Brien said his brother, Clifford, 66, is addicted to "telling tall tales, especially when he is drinking."

Legge was found dead in 1919 after apparently being hit by a train and crushed under its wheels. A coroner's jury ruled at the time that the death was accidental.

Clifford O'Brien was charged Wednesday with murder in the 1919 death of Legge, a Pembroke tobacco store owner.

$1 Million To Schools On Island

About $1,000,000 of the $12,300,000 in school bonds to be issued by the B.C. government next month will cover Vancouver Island construction projects.

Premier Bennett announced the bond issue Thursday.

It will be a standard serial debenture issue with 5% interest paid semi-annually.

Guaranteed by the government, the bonds will mostly be bought by its own agencies such as the civil service pension fund.

44 DISTRICTS

Of the 44 school districts involved, Greater Victoria accounts for $220,000 worth of school construction. Saanich projects total $144,000.

Cowichan School District is covered to the amount of $360,000, and Campbell River for $267,500.

Last bond issue of this type was in March, when school construction worth $8,000,000 was financed.

Gordon Wright, HMCS Sasevare, $5, walking on the right.

It is customary for an estimated 150,000 salmon to lay their eggs each year on a gravel bar at the mouth of Forestry Camp Creek. Fisheries officials have dammed the creek, and will pipe the water one-third mile to another creek.

It is hoped the salmon, seeking the creek in which they were spawned, will go to the new site.

If it is proved salmon can be induced to move to another spot, the B.C. Power Commission can proceed with the second stage of its Ash River-Great Central-Sproat Lake power scheme. This involves raising the level of Great Central Lake by from 30 to 40 feet, and diverting the water to Sproat Lake through a tunnel.

Salmon runs could be preserved by establishing new spawning beds along the shores of Great Central Lake.

A section strawboss, Prokop, was struck by a log which slid off a railroad flat car. ANY

Moonlight Logging Beats Woods Closure

COURTENAY—Comox Logging and Railway Company is producing logs in spite of the forest closure by adopting a system used years ago—loading under lights.

Logs from operations on Comox Lake are towed to the foot of the lake for loading on trucks and hauling to salt water booming grounds at Royston.

The company has been given special permission to operate through the existing forest closure between the hours of 10 p.m. and 1 p.m. Work is being done at night in order to take advantage of high tides at Royston.

In previous years two shifts operate daily on the loading operation, which meant some work every day was done before dawn and after sundown.

Approach a Blancmange— It's Now In Powder Form

By PENNY SAVER

Newest little sight on grocery shelves of a downtown store is blancmange, in powdered form yet, hailing from Maidstone, England (of course). To Penny's way of thinking (and cooking), tackling a blancmange single-handedly has always been rather like tackling Mont Blanc. And Penny's no mountain-climber.

With powdered blancmange, all one can possibly go wrong on is the amount of milk—one pint—and sugar, two tablespoons. From here on in, process is the same as making a powdered vanilla pudding.

One box of blancmange powder contains three flat packages, each of which will make over a pint of the fluffy dessert. There are three flavors in each box, raspberry, strawberry and vanilla. Two boxes, to make six desserts, are priced at only 29 cents. Not only is this dessert revolutionary, different, tasty and the rest—it is very penny-wise.

Are you one of the strugglers who have been trying to combat soft or brittle nails by a daily dose of near-unpalatable gelatin? You will be happy to hear that gelatine now comes in capsules.

Gelatine in this form can be dissolved in soups and gravies as a daily diet supplement, at three a day, but if you are trying to strengthen your fingernails, only one capsule daily is needed. This pleasant way to take gelatine is actually cheaper than bulk gelatine, as plastic cylinder of 50 10-gram tablets is priced at 98 cents.

Other weekend food news: seedless grapes are selling in this store at two pounds for 29 cents (half-price). And large "Netted Gem" potatoes are 10 pounds for 49 cents.

Advised to Do Exercises,
But 'Which Ones' She Asks

Q. "Please help me with my problem. I know a lot of girls who have the same problem. I am very thin."

My mother tells me to take exercises, but I do not know which ones to take."

A. First, be sure you get enough sleep and eat a well-balanced diet. Vitamin deficiency is one reason for underweight, so do not neglect the fruits and vegetables, meat, eggs, cereal and milk for rich, in-between-time snacks. Vitamin B has sometimes been found helpful in gaining weight.

Swimming is a wonderful, all-around beautifier of the figure. Exercise is splendid for you if it is not too strenuous. You can take special exercises to build up the muscles of the chest, calves and arms. If you or any of my readers would like to have some of these exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request. Address Josephine Lowman, in care of this newspaper.

Miss Betty Bone, this Saturday's bride-elect, has been guest of honor at a series of festive occasions held by her friends. Mrs. Dave Marshall, to be bridesmatron, entertained with a shower party. Cages were presented to Miss Bone, her mother, Mrs. G. E. Bone, and to Mrs. A. Kalirath, mother of the groom-elect.

Following the wedding rehearsal this evening, Mrs. J. N. Forde will be hostess in her Wilson Street home for the bridal party. Twenty-six guests are expected.

Miss Bone was herself a charming hostess at a luncheon held in her Burnside Road home to honor her seven attendants. Centring the dining table was a bride doll, surrounded by gifts from the bride-elect to her attendants.

Former Girl Guides, who had attended camps in Montana and Great Britain with Miss Bone, were guests at a shower given by Mrs. M. Reid and Mrs. S. Averill to honor their friend.

The Walter Street home of Miss Jean Rife and Miss Irene Rife was setting for another shower given for the bride-elect. Among the guests were Miss Bone's mother, her grand mother, Mrs. G. F. Cooper, and mother of the groom-elect.

A. Consult your physician concerning this.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McConville, 3160 Albina Street, announce the forthcoming marriage of their only daughter, Catherine Ann, to Earle Douglas Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Dawson, Barrie, Ont. The wedding will take place on Friday, September 1, at 7 p.m. in St. Patrick's Church with Father M. J. McNamara officiating. Miss McConville has chosen as her attendants Miss Maren Pedersen and Miss Marguerite Doucet, bridesmaids, and Miss Wendy Hatch, flower girl. Frank Christian will be best man, with Neil Walton and Larry Robinson as ushers. Photos by Jus-Rite Studio.

Rev. Easter Heard Vows In First Baptist Church

Salmon pink and white gilding flanked the altar in First Baptist Church when Rev. G. R. Easter heard matrimonial vows of Miss Marion Laura Elliott and Brian Ellis Clements.

The ceremony united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Austin Elliott, Stroud Road, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clements, Wordsworth Street.

"Praise My Soul the King of Heaven" was played by organist John E. Tunstall as the attractive bride entered the church on the arm of her father. For the occasion, she chose a classic floor-length gown of shimmering silk brocade, styled with basque bodice, scooped neckline, and sleeves which tapered to lily points.

The full, hoopied skirt, touched with a large back bow, billowed from a dipped waistline. A single rose of silk organza held in place her bouffant veil of illusion silk.

red roses with white edges were in her bouquet.

Miss Pamela Elliott was maid of honor for her cousin, wearing a cocktail-length dress of pink nylon with a bell-shaped skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of pale mauve chrysanthemums to complete the picture.

Miss Rosemary Flett and Miss Judy Gregg were bridesmaids in similar gowns of an aqua tone, accented with bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. All attendants wore headaddresses designed like the bride's, with shorter veils.

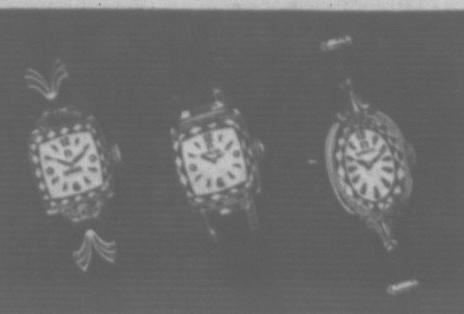

Best man was Bob Cooper, while John Elliott and Richard Elliott, brothers of the bride, and Ray Sutherland escorted guests to pews marked with white ribbon bows and lily-of-the-valley. Soloist, Clement Mann, sang "The Lord's Prayer" during signing of the register.

Wallace Room at Holyrood House was decorated with pink and white flowers for a reception, where Vince Clarkson proposed a toast to his niece. The newlyweds cut a three-tier wedding cake.

For travelling to the United States for a honeymoon, the new Mrs. Clements donned a green and yellow floral print dress of nylon over white taffeta, highlighted with green accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. They will make their home at 3328 Wordsworth Street upon return.

Couple Cut Cake Made By Bride's Mother

At a reception following their marriage last Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. John De Jong cut a four-tier pink and white cake that had been made and decorated by Mrs. Frederick C. Beecroft for the wedding of her daughter, Gloria June. St. Alban's Hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion. Clarence Raaf-laub proposed the bridal toast to his goddaughter.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Beecroft, Grange Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick De Jong, North Park Street. A profusion of early autumn flowers created a background in Centennial United Church for the double-ring ceremony at which Rev. R. H. Turpin officiated. Mrs. F. Wilmhurst played traditional organ music as the attractive bride entered the church on the arm of her father.

Deep red roses mingled with white satin streamers in the bride's bouquet were an effective contrast to her full-length gown of sheer nylon tulle and lace over satin. Lace panels' a pliquet with iridescent sequins and pearls highlighted the full skirt.

A sequin-bespinkled veil of nylon tulle with scalloped edges cascaded from a rhinestone tiara to waistlength. Only jewelry was a strand of seed pearls with matching earrings.

The four attendants entered singly, gowned alternately in pink and blue. Maid of honor

Miss Freda Stewart came first, wearing a dress of pink nylon chiffon over taffeta with floating panels. Mrs. Peter Mae was bridesmatron in a similar gown of blue, while Miss Martha Claybourne and Miss Fay Lundblad, bridesmaids, were gowned, respectively, in pink and blue.

Little Miss Lynda Beecroft, sister of the bride, was a dainty flower girl in a yellow frock. All carried colonial bouquets of roses and carnations.

Married Here, Repeat Vows In Holland

Elaine Trueman and Ockko (Hank) Otter exchanged wedding vows last Saturday. On Sunday evening they left by jet for Winschoten, Holland, the home of Mr. Otter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Otter.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Trueman, 2080 Cadboro Bay Road.

The new Mrs. Otter took with her the bridal gown, her wedding cake and her bouquet. All will be used again in Holland when the couple are married in another ceremony with the groom's family present.

Following reception in Holland, the newlyweds will take a two-and-a-half-month tour of Europe and visit the bride's grandfather, Mr. J. W. Roberts, and family, in Royston, Yorkshire, England. They will return to make their home in Victoria.

The Victoria wedding was solemnized in Belmont United Church by Rev. C. R. McGillivray. The soloist, Miss Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

After training in Royal Alexander Hospital in Edmonton, Miss Harrington came to Victoria in 1954. Since then she has been in the Victoria Public Health Nursing staff.

One of her years on the staff was spent taking her bachelor of nursing degree at McGill University. For two years Miss Harrington has been the nursing supervisor for Victoria.

Mrs. Jean Thomson presented the honor guest with two sterling silver coffee spoons bearing the insignia of Beta Sigma Phi. Guests enjoyed a barbecue supper served on the patio.

'BUFFALO HEAD' FOLLOWS 'DANGEROUS RIVER'

Second Book for Sidney Author

A former Sidney author whose first book was hailed by critics as "a masterpiece" has just produced the second volume of a trilogy on Rocky Mountain life.

"The Buffalo Head" is the name of the new work by R. M. ("Pat") Patterson, who published his first book at age 53.

The new book, released by William Sloan Associates this week in New York, has a foreword carrying the dateline of Patterson's former home: "Sidney, B.C., December, 1960."

The lean and handsome author had a home at Shoal Harbor.

However, when The Times

attempted to contact him today, it was advised he has sold the home to a Seattle couple and is now living in Switzerland.

The attraction for his new homeland is apparent in the first few chapters of "The Buffalo Head," in which Mr. Patterson recalls happy days touring central Europe, after his release from a German prison camp in 1918.

In a brief tenure with the Bank of England, the young man had nominated him for the bank (a Canadian), the director smiled and said:

"I think that it will be a great adventure."

EXPLORER

Patterson headed from the Fraser Valley into the Peace River country, serving as rancher, guide and general explorer.

His experiences, told in "Dangerous River," were instantly acclaimed by top-ranking critics, some of whom pointed out at the glories of the Canadian Rockies had not often been examined by a writer who had taken scholarship honors at Oxford.

Dixon Kabinda, a branch chairman of the United National Independence Party, was killed when he attacked a member of the Northern Rhodesia security force in Luapula province, the spokesman said.

"If fortune smiles on this one . . . I plan to write of my return to the rivers of the north, and so to complete the story."

Negro Leader Slain

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (Reuters) — A Negro nationalist leader was shot to death Thursday in the troubled northern region of this British protectorate, a government spokesman said today.

Dixon Kabinda, a branch chairman of the United National Independence Party, was killed when he attacked a member of the Northern Rhodesia security force in Luapula province, the spokesman said.

"If fortune smiles on this one . . . I plan to write of my return to the rivers of the north, and so to complete the story."

WHERE DISASTER STRUCK

From scenes like this, thousands of Newfoundlanders have fled their homes, sometimes in conditions described as "chaotic." This fire left houses on the shore in Carmanville, ringed by desolation

typical of that created by scores of other fires in the northeastern part of the island province. One thousand square miles of forests have been destroyed and fires are still raging. (CP Photo.)

FIRE DESTROYS LOGGING CAMPS

(Earlier story, Page 12)

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — High winds and severe lightning swept through the Kamloops forest district overnight, creating havoc for firefighters in the central British Columbia district and destroying two logging camps.

The winds that gusted to 50 miles an hour brought together two portions of a fire at Crooked Lake, 90 miles north of here, to create a blaze of 15,000 acres. The fire stretched for six miles along the shore of the lake.

Two logging camps, owned by H. J. Gardner and Sons Ltd., were destroyed after the men there escaped to safety.

Oil Drilling Boom in B.C.

By FRANK RUTTER

One of the biggest oil drilling programs ever to hit B.C.'s northland is now starting in the Boundary Lake field of the Peace River country.

Government sources say a total of 138 wells will be drilled in the next seven months by a number of companies.

Boundary will become B.C.'s biggest oilfield.

The sudden spurt is to get wells producing by the time a new crude oil pipeline from Taylor to Kamloops is built. Target date for its completion is October. It will connect with another pipeline from Kamloops to Vancouver bringing B.C. oil to Vancouver refineries for the first time.

Leader in the big drilling program is Imperial Oil. The company definitely plans 42 wells this year, and may drill as many as 90 in the next seven months.

BIGGEST IN B.C.

"This is a tremendous boost in our program," said a company spokesman.

Boundary Lake will be the biggest field in B.C., he predicted.

He said a rough estimate is that Imperial will spend $1,250,000 on its program.

A number of other oil companies plan a total of 38 wells in the Boundary field.

Working with Imperial are Scurry-Rainbow, Pacific Petroleum and Calvan oil companies. Work is already under way on roads, flow lines and batteries, to feed the oil from the field to Taylor where the pipeline starts.

Northland Foothills Agreement—British American, Shell, Mobil and Texaco—plan eight wells; the tests are divided up between Dome, Amerada, Sun, Sinclair, Hudson Bay and Union oil companies.

Premier Bennett was jubilant about the oil program.

"For every job in the field, they tell us six other jobs are created," he said.

Allied Air Lines to Defy Russ 'Threat' on Corridor

(See page 5)

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. authorities said today civilian airliners will keep flying into West Berlin despite a "scarcely veiled threat" by Russia to clamp down on flights.

The authorities cited both precedent and past agreements signed by the Russians as allowing commercial flights to Berlin without interference.

In a statement the U.S. government Thursday rejected as false Soviet charges that the Western powers are airlifting West German spies and saboteurs to West Berlin.

The new Kremlin note said that in traffic of West Germans to West Berlin the Western powers are abusing the air corridors to the city, "taking advantage of the absence of control over air communications."

The statement denounced the Moscow protest as cynical and irresponsible at a time when the Communists, in "direct violation" of agreements to unify Germany, built a barricade sealing off East Berlin.

NOT TAKEN SERIOUSLY

The Soviet complaint about relations between West Germany and West Berlin cannot be taken seriously at a time when Moscow is claiming East Berlin is part of East Germany, the statement said. It added:

"What must be taken seriously by the whole world, within a few days, however, is the scarcely veiled threat of aggression against the Allied air routes to and from West Berlin.

The United States must serve a solemn warning to the Soviet Union that any interference by the Soviet government or its East German regime with free access to West Berlin would be an aggressive act for the consequences of which the Soviet government would bear full responsibility."

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said a formal diplomatic note, co-ordinated among the Western Big Four powers, will be sent in reply to the Russian note within a few days.

Stir a cup of water with your finger, toss it into a stream and salmon swimming there will stop, he said. Brett said they can pick up the scent even when it is diluted to one part to 80,000,000 parts of water.

However, he said, the salmon is deterred from reaching its mating grounds and will swim right under a bear's legs after a brief stop to analyze the situation.

Brett said young salmon are born with the ability to use the sky as a compass. They can find their way to wherever they want to go. "How they know where they are when they start is the big question," he said.

'GOOD SENSE NEEDED' AS TRAVEL BAN OFF

B.C. Forest Service officials today gambled on the good sense of the vacationing public by permitting travel in a large part of Vancouver Forest District on the weekend.

Open to the public will be all of Vancouver Island from Bowser south, but campfire permits are rescinded.

For at least two days officials have been considering reimposition of a general closure, which still applies north of Bowser, but decided at noon to take a chance and let the public into the woods, despite high hazard conditions.

Warning Shots Fired by Reds

West Berliners Storm Truckload Of Russians as Tension Mounts

(Times News Services)

BERLIN—Communist guards fired warning shots today to scare away about 30 West Berliners who had crowded to the barbed-wire barrier in the French sector to watch Red activity on the other side.

West Berlin police told of the incident at Frohnau:

A Communist suddenly ordered: "Go back 100 metres (110 yards) or we will shoot." The crowd did not move. Then came a warning rattle of sub-machine gun fire.

Western police persuaded the people then to pull back for their own safety. The incident was another in outbursts of violence on both sides of the border that kept tension and tempers high in this 13th day of the border war of nerves.

For the first time since 1946 the U.S. Army garrison in Berlin has artillery support—six 105-millimetre howitzers. The guns, however, are still in their canvas covers and parked at McNair barracks, miles from the city border.

12,000-YARD RANGE

The howitzers have a range of about 12,000 yards. Army spokesman said they are fitted to use only standard shells and not atomic warheads. Tank guns have been the biggest armament of the garrison, swelled by reinforcements last Sunday to 6,500 men.

The guns are designed to be towed wherever they are needed and will not take up fixed positions in Berlin. The garrison has been posting tanks as well as infantrymen at the border.

"In the opinion of all sensible people there must be negotiations soon over disposing of the remains of the Second World War, through the conclusion of a peace treaty so that peace will reign at last 16 years after the end of the war."

If the Western powers refuse to do this, he went on, then the negotiations would be limited to clearing out "nests of agents," the American radio and branches of the Bonn government from West Berlin and "the regulation of transit traffic over the traffic routes of the East German Democratic Republic on land, water and in the air under the conditions of control through the state organs of the GDR."

With orders to fire if fired upon, U.S. soldiers stood guard during the night in drenching rain close-up to the Communists' fortified line along with British and French forces and West Berlin police.

Brig.-Gen. Frederick O. Harrel, commander of the 6,500-strong U.S. garrison in Berlin, toured the border in the American sector during the early morning hours. About 600 American troops—some with rifles slung over their shoulders, others behind machine-guns pointing to the east—maintained the night watch.

ESCAPEE KILLED

The first known fatality of the nerve war came Thursday when Communist police with a burst of gunfire killed an East German who plunged into a waterway near the old Reichstag building and tried to swim to the West.

West Germany's vice-chancellor, Ludwig Erhard, flew into Berlin today, only a day after the Soviet Union had condemned such visits by Bonn politicians. Erhard's visit was arranged long before this latest Red threat.

There was hardly a spot in eastern and central Newfoundland that wasn't ablaze or covered with smoke. Most of the burned forests contained black spruce, vital to the province's two newsprint mills.

Mr. Ralph, who made a helicopter tour of the major fires Thursday, said more than 1,000 firefighters on the job are ready to drop from exhaustion.

"They've reached the stage now where they are rapidly losing their mental and physical efficiency. We welcome any help we can get from the army, but it is my personal opinion we will require 2,000 rather than 200 men."

Mr. Ralph said the fire struck with such swiftness at Swift Current that the evacuation of women and children of

Ottawa Sends Top Experts

OTTAWA (CP)—Seven fire-fighting experts and eight foremen from the national parks service will fly immediately to Newfoundland to help fight the province's forest fires. Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced today.

That requires a great deal of consideration, and a request would have to be made by the province.

Before the cabinet session, Mr. Diefenbaker said any further requests by Newfoundland Premier Smallwood for help would be given quick and sympathetic consideration by the federal government.

He said Premier Smallwood telephoned him Thursday night asking for the help of the army, and within an hour the order was made to dispatch 200 men by air from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

The people of Newfoundland deserve every help because their troubles have filled the hearts of all Canadians with a deep sense of sympathy," Mr. Diefenbaker said.

200 TROOPS FIGHT WORST OUTBREAK

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Two hundred soldiers from Camp Gagetown, N.B., began moving into the Neil's Brook area of Newfoundland today to fight a forest fire which officials consider the most potentially dangerous in the province.

The soldiers began arriving at Gander, some 30 miles east of the Neil's Brook fire, aboard RCAF aircraft at midnight after Premier Smallwood declared a state of emergency Thursday and appealed to the federal government for aid.

At Dunn's River and Swift Current in the Puenta Bay area, fires calmed down overnight after destroying two fishing shacks on the outskirts, but today it was burning fiercely again.

At last report today it was two miles from the community of Swift Current and only one mile from a string of modern cabins and a diner owned by Jack Beck.

"It's real bad out there," said Mr. Beck.

He said the countryside was

'Hundreds of Little Hells' Racing

The situation was so bad that Resources Minister W. J. Keough asked Newfoundlanders to offer special prayers for rain.

Flames galloped along at such a rate that one forestry official described them as "hundreds of little hells."

Chief forester Ed Ralph said "We've thrown every piece of equipment, every man we could find into the battle, tried every tactic in the book and we've spared no expense. But our efforts have been in vain."

"It's impossible to cope with 55 and 60-mile-an-hour winds blowing flames through woods containing 25 to 30 cords to an acre. No man made of flesh and blood can stand in front of forest fires like that."

HONOLULU (AP)—The salmon can smell a fisherman—or an enemy—a mile upstream, says Canadian biologist J. R. Brett of Nanaimo, B.C.

Foods Hardest Hit In Toronto Decline

Foods were the hardest hit as the industrial index continued to fall in light trading today on the Toronto stock market.

Loblaw A and B, Weston A and B, Burns, Hardee Farms and Dominion Stores all suffered losses. Other losses were scattered across the board and went to International, Eddy Paper, A. MacMillan-Bloedel, St. Lawrence, Bank of Montreal and Bank of Commerce.

New York market was also down in moderate trading. Gains and losses of fractions to a point spotted the list of key stocks.

AT TORONTO liquors were strong with Molsons B ahead ½ to a new top of 29% while the A issue equalled its high with a rise of a point. Canadian Breweries and Distillers Seagram's rose ½ and ¾ respectively.

International Nickel, Gunnar Ventures and Falbridge all lost about 75 cents, while Opmiska, Denison and Hudson Bay had smaller falls in a generally depressed senior base metals list.

Gold trading was light with McIntyre Porcupine down 1% and small falls going to Holinger and Kerr-Addison.

In light western oil trading, Home A and B and Dome lost as much as 10 cents.

AT NEW YORK among Canadian issues Walker Gooderham advanced ½ and Distillers Seagram's and Dome Mines ½. McIntyre Porcupine was down 1%, International Nickel ½, Aluminum Ltd. ¼, Hudson Bay Mining ½.

Prices on the American stock exchange continued generally higher in moderate trad-

Fires Concern Paper Mills

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Newfoundland's two paper-making mills, at Corner Brook and Grand Falls, said Thursday the destruction of spruce forests this year by fire will not affect 1961 operations.

But both companies expressed concern with the long-range prospects.

A. E. Balloch, assistant general manager of Corner Brook's Bowater Falls, said the plant's stockpile is growing with normal deliveries of last winter's cut.

Most of the spruce burned so far has been on Bowater property. Mr. Balloch said great quantities of pulpwood earmarked for cutting this year have been destroyed.

"We will have to do some further planning before we will know what the true situation will be," he said.

SCHOLARSHIPS AID HONOR GRADUATES

76 V.I. Students Qualify For Government Tuition

Seventy-six Vancouver Island high school students are among 346 eligible in B.C. for first class B.C. government university entrance scholarships. Education Minister Leslie Peterson announced today. If they apply, the B.C. government will pay half their tuition fees for first-year university courses or Grade XIII. The first-class standing is awarded all students in B.C. high schools who got 80 per cent or more in the June examinations this year.

Another 715 B.C. students are eligible for second class

government scholarships—worth one-third of tuition fees. All the students in both classes will be notified of their standing, and are invited to apply for the scholarships if they commit themselves to a year's full study at university or Grade XIII.

Other scholarships are to be announced later for students already attending Victoria College and the University of B.C.

'DELIGHTED'

"I am delighted that approximately 11 per cent more Grade 12 and 13 students are eligible for these awards this year," said Mr. Peterson.

The scholarship program was introduced in 1959, and each year more students have been eligible.

Of the 76 Island "winners," 49 are from Greater Victoria schools; the others come from all Island points, including Alberni, Duncan, Ladysmith, Sidney, Shawnigan and the Gulf Islands.

FULL LIST

This is the list of Vancouver Island students eligible for the first class scholarships worth one-half tuition fees at university:

University entrance:
William Frederick Hubbard, 2015 Hazelton St.; John Peter Cuthbert Campbell, 1959 Campbell River; Dennis Anthony Patriarchi, 1277 Rockland; Lester William Foster, 2005 Tudor, 1277 Rockland; John James Kelly, 1277 Rockland; Lester Michael Nichols, 3125 Esquimalt; David Anthony Kelly, 3125 Esquimalt; Linda Jean Warren, Port Alberni; Patricia Lynn Evans, 1980 Cochrane, 32, 32.

A great urge has been taking hold of me of late, and is reaching proportions hard to control.

In fact, the only reason I can contain this urge at all is that I can see, at this moment, no way of fulfilling it.

The urge to which I refer is to become the possessor of a roll-top desk.

It began to form in my head during a conversation with a former colleague of Benny Nicholas, the late, great editor of this newspaper.

Every time I think of Benny, I think of him swivelled around in his chair, an elbow braced on the open front of his roll-top desk.

There are many things about a roll-top desk, which far overshadow the steely neatness of the modern office furniture.

My dear old dad, when he was a practicing parson, had a roll-top desk in his study.

It—like the roll-top of Benny Nicholas—was equipped with an awesome array of drawers, secret compartments, and pigeon holes. (No pigeons, but you can't have everything.)

In a roll-top desk, there is room for everything. There is no need to dispose of a single letter, document, clipping, photograph, or memento which might conceivably—or even inconceivably—come in handy at some far distant date.

In my dear old dad's roll-top, as I remember it, there was a double row of pigeon holes at the back, possibly 12 to 15 to each row.

There were two racks, one at each end of the desk, suitable for holding large documents.

Below the pigeon holes and the drawers, the surface of the desk extended right to the back, providing ample space for the most extensive piling system one could dream of.

And on either side of the knee space beneath the desk surface, there were more drawers—solid, formidable, yawning open invitation for the storage of anything smaller than a Shetland pony.

Yes, the roll-top desk of my dear old dad, and of Benny Nicholas, was a thing of utilitarian beauty.

There are many reasons why I have this urge to become the possessor of a roll-top desk.

But the main reason is, one can cram it full of junk, roll down the top, lock it, and lecture one's wife and family on the virtues of neatness.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

The intermediate section of the junior branch of the Victoria Natural History will meet on Sunday at 8 a.m. at the Monterey Restaurant parking lot for a field trip to Tswawassen, via B.C. Ferries.

A 20-day jail term was given Louis Underwood, East Saanich Reserve, in city police court after he pleaded guilty to driving while his licence was suspended.

In addition, he was fined $50 for consuming liquor in public.

Police said he was checked Thursday at 9:20 a.m. at Yates and Government after he hit another vehicle while trying to park his car.

Special fund to save Colwood Park was expected Thursday to top at least $1,000 with signing of a carnival and midway show for a four-day stand.

Westcoast United Shows will erect seven rides and 20 tent concessions on the 140-acre property leased by B.C. Agricultural Association.

The carnival will be open Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

BCCA was guaranteed a minimum rent of $100 a day from the event, which will be added to the $650 raised so far in the association's campaign to obtain $5,000 so it can keep the park operating during the next year.

24 Students Seeking Bursaries

Twenty-four Victoria students have applied for the Royal Canadian Legion scholarships and bursaries awarded annually by branches, provincial commands and the Dominion command of the Legion.

These include Victoria's large Britannia branch and other district units.

Names of the successful applicants will be announced early in September, a Legion official said today.

"Most of the awards are bursaries based primarily on need and are available to children of ex-servicemen. More than 500 students across Canada will receive assistance valued at more than $75,000."

During and after the Second World War, some 200,000 servicemen and women enrolled in 11,000 classes of all grades with the co-operation of the Canadian government and the Canadian Legion Educational Service.

Some 8,000 war veterans took advantage of university courses in relation to rehabilitation.

Jaycees Discuss Centennial Plans

Permanent project to be undertaken as a contribution to the city's 1962 centenary will be discussed Monday night by a special Junior Chamber of Commerce committee.

Chairman Brian Small, Peter Forward and Richard Pikit will screen four suggestions before deciding on a recommendation.

CRITICISM VIA EGGS, TOMATOES, THREATS

This Mayor Has a Real Parking Problem

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Mayor Richardson Dilworth—the target of eggs and tomatoes when he addressed a public meeting during a parking controversy in Philadelphia last month—is enjoying a well-earned rest in Victoria.

He is staying at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Dilworth and planned a fishing trip in Saanich Inlet today.

A tall, good-looking man with expressive dark eyes, 63-year-old Mayor Dilworth was pelted with eggs and tomatoes by an angry crowd of 2,000 when he tried to explain why Philadelphians should pay a fee of $40 a year for the privilege of parking their cars on downtown streets.

His wife stood beside him during the attack, and an all-night police guard was mounted at his home.

Mr. Dilworth blames the "emotional Italian temperament" for this uprising.

"We have a large Italian population of about 350,000," he said. "They have been accustomed to parking their cars on the streets all night without paying anything and got very angry when I proposed a fee."

"But something like this has to be done. The parking congestion is becoming intolerable because of the huge increase in apartments and the corresponding increase of automobiles without garages."

"Our new parking fee will be imposed next Jan. 1, but the council has not yet decided whether it will be $40 a year or less. The money will be used to construct neighborhood parking lots to relieve street congestion."

"I believe the people of Philadelphia will accept this plan. In Milwaukee they are charging $48 a year for downtown parking."

Mayor Dilworth said that Philadelphia, with a population of 2,100,000, has a serious transportation problem, and he believes the only solution is complete unification of public transportation under municipal control.

"Over the past two years we have poured millions into our subway companies and bus lines. A municipally-controlled transit authority is the only solution today."

Mayor Dilworth has had a stormy political career. A lawyer and a Democrat, he was elected as "the Reform Mayor" in 1955 and is now serving his second four-year term. But that is the limit.

"I cannot run again," he said.

He ran three times for the governorship of Pennsylvania before being elected in 1951.

"I imagine that would be very relative to ours."

Committee Spat Over Centenary

Arena Rent, Horse Shows Start Fight

Memorial Arena manager John Morgan today said he was completely surprised by a bitter attack on arena rental rates from centennial committee coordinator William Dow.

Mr. Dow Thursday suggested the committee spend $8,000 for a floating stage in the Inner Harbor or put up a circus tent in Beacon Hill Park to stage some of its productions.

He said this would enable the committee to avoid using the arena which he claimed would charge "an exorbitant rental" of $500. The Royal Theatre, he added, would charge $1,000 a night.

"Well, I'm certainly surprised by his statement," Mr. Morgan said. "I don't know what he's getting at."

NO DISCUSSION

"We haven't even discussed rental rates with him because he doesn't know yet what he wants to put on."

He contended that, considering the arena's 5,200-seat size, its rental rates were among the lowest in the city, amounting to only a few cents per seat.

"We certainly try to play ball with everyone on rentals. We can't give the building away because it belongs to the taxpayers but we try our best to be fair," said Mr. Morgan.

RESEARCH WORK

The arena manager also pointed out he personally had conducted considerable research among horse show sponsors, as far as Texas, to help with an international horse show here as proposed by Mr. Dow.

But no discussion has been held on rental rates for such a show.

The international horse show idea touched off a short but sharp wrangle at Thursday's meeting between Mr. Dow and centennial committee chairman Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow.

CANCELLED INVITE

Mr. Dow said he decided to cancel an invitation to the Japanese Olympic jumping team to participate in a show.

"I don't think there should be a cancellation of anything before the sub-committee dealing with events has even met for the first time," remonstrated Ald. Edgelow.

"Nothing is cancelled. I think that sort of thing is for the committee to decide. There are several ways this can be handled. We don't necessarily need the best show in the world—the expensive kind you would expect in London or Paris."

SUB-COMMITTEE

Mr. Dow said he was glad sub-committees had been appointed to deal with various phases of the 1962 celebrations because decisions on various phases of the 1962 celebrations because decisions on various subjects were needed "so that we don't have these constant criticisms that I have had to live with day to day."

Committee endorsed a formal letter which will be sent out to local businessmen soliciting donations to the centennial fund.

Screening of permanent project suggestions was turned over to a sub-committee headed by P. P. D. Holmes.

Other committee chairmen appointed were O. G. Jones, events and attractions; Walter Dodsworth, parades; Ald. Austin Curtis, finance; J. K. Nesbitt, pioneers; William L. Hawkins, publicity and promotions; Roderick Clark, decorations.

Lila M. Bickford, 3071 Shelbourne, $15, over 30.

NIGHT-SKIING

Regulations will prohibit water skiing at night, operating a boat with ability impaired, and will contain penalties for failure to stop and offer assistance when required by others.

RCMP said the new regulations revive for both motorists and boat owners the former charge of "driving to the common danger."

An RCMP spokesman said the main effect of the change as it applies to boatmen is that regulations are more complete and cover many more phases of boat operation, and that penalties may be more severe.

"In addition both police and the courts will find administration of the boating regulations under the Criminal Code much easier because of their familiarity with the automobile regulations," he said.

Ex-BCE Officers Deny Boost Planned

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three former officials of the B.C. Electric Company say that only one rate increase was contemplated before the government took over the company and the idea was rejected.

They were commenting on a statement made by Premier Bennett at a press conference Thursday that a power increase was coming and the government takeover prevented this.

'Beer-Can' Satellite in Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States successfully placed in orbit today a "beer-can satellite" designed to make the best study yet of tiny space bullets that might kill improperly protected astronauts.

The announcement that the 127-pound satellite was in orbit came almost two hours after it was rocketed aloft by a 72-foot, 36,600-pound Scout booster rocket from the U.S. Space Agency's Wallops Island, Va., station.

BCE to Continue Chest Donations

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Electric Company will make the same grant to the Community Chest as a public company as it did when it was privately owned.

Rod M. Hungerford, Chest campaign manager, said the BCE directors have decided to continue a grant of $85,900.

The campaign officials had feared the huge utility's donation, second largest corporate grant in the Vancouver area, would be lost with the recent nationalization of the company by the B.C. government.

WHERE DISASTER STRUCK

From scenes like this, thousands of Newfoundlanders have fled their homes, sometimes in conditions described as "chaotic." This fire left houses on the shore in Carmanville, ringed by desolation typical of that created by scores of other fires in the northeastern part of the island province. One thousand square miles of forests have been destroyed and fires are still raging. (CP Photo.)

'GOOD SENSE NEEDED' AS TRAVEL BAN OFF

B.C. Forest Service officials today gambled on the good sense of the vacationing public by permitting travel in a large part of Vancouver Forest District on the weekend.

Open to the public will be all of Vancouver Island from Bowser south, but campfire permits are rescinded.

For at least two days officials have been considering reimposition of a general closure, which still applies north of Bowser, but decided at noon to take a chance and let the public into the woods, despite high hazard conditions.

Oil Drilling Boom in B.C.

By FRANK RUTTER

One of the biggest oil drilling programs ever to hit B.C.'s northland is now starting in the Boundary Lake field of the Peace River country.

Government sources say a total of 138 wells will be drilled in the next seven months by a number of companies.

Boundary will become B.C.'s biggest oilfield.

The sudden spurt is to get wells producing by the time a new crude oil pipeline from Taylor to Kamloops is built. Target date for its completion is October. It will connect with another pipeline from Kamloops to Vancouver, bringing B.C. oil to Vancouver refineries for the first time.

Leader in the big drilling program is Imperial Oil. The company definitely plans 42 wells this year, and may drill as many as 90 in the next seven months.

BIGGEST IN B.C.

"This is a tremendous boost in our program," said a company spokesman.

"Boundary Lake will be the biggest field in B.C.," he predicted.

He said a rough estimate is that Imperial will spend $1.25 million on its program.

A number of other oil companies plan a total of 38 wells in the Boundary field.

Working with Imperial are Scurry-Rainbow, Pacific Petroleum and Calvan oil com-

Warning Shots Fired by Reds

West Berliners Storm Truckload Of Russians as Tension Mounts

(Times News Services)

BERLIN—Communist guards fired warning shots today to scare away about 30 West Berliners who had crowded to the barbed-wire barrier in the French sector to watch Red activity on the other side.

West Berlin police told of the incident at Frohnau:

A Communist suddenly ordered: "Go back 100 metres (110 yards) or we will shoot." The crowd did not move. Then came a warning rattle of sub-machine gun fire.

Western police persuaded the people then to pull back for their own safety. The incident was another in outbursts of violence on both sides of the border that kept tension and tempers high in this 13th day of the border war of nerves.

For the first time since 1946 the U.S. Army garrison in Berlin has artillery support—six 105-millimetre howitzers. The guns, however, are still in their canvas covers and parked at McNair barracks, miles from the city-border.

In effect he promised not to attempt to take over controls until the end of the year when Soviet Premier Khrushchev has said there will be such a treaty.

Speaking at a mass rally of invited party faithful in East Berlin, he said:

"In the opinion of all sensible people there must be no such a treaty."

The guns are designed to be towed wherever they are needed and will not take up fixed positions in Berlin. The garrison has been posting tanks as well as infantry at the border.

In a series of incidents Thursday and Thursday night:

A West Berlin mob attacked a bus loaded with Soviet soldiers. Saboteurs halted the Red-run railway and elevated system in the Western sector for 10 minutes. East German police shot and killed a fleeing refugee.

UN WARNED

Tunisia Prepared To Fight

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Tunisia warned today that it will take steps to defend itself if the United Nations fails to force France to pull its troops back to positions held before the July fighting at Bizerte.

Tunisian delegate Mongi Slim told a special session of the UN General Assembly it would be dangerous to disregard what he called France's defiance of a Security Council resolution calling for the troop pull-back.

He read to the 99-nation assembly excerpts from a speech made in Tunisia earlier today by President Habib Bourguiba declaring "the world can say goodbye to the United Nations" if France is not required to accept UN decisions.

"We will have to exercise our legitimate right of self-defence," Slim said. "If there is no action at the United Nations."

Overwhelming approval is expected tonight or early Saturday of an Afro-Asian resolution calling on France to withdraw her troops from the city of Bizerte and negotiate with Tunisia on eventual liquidation of the French base at Bizerte.

Britain, the United States and most of the NATO countries have indicated in four previous days of special session debate that they will abstain in the vote, contending that the terms of the resolution would not improve the climate for negotiation.

NOT TAKEN SERIOUSLY

The Soviet complaint about relations between West Germany and West Berlin cannot be taken seriously at a time when Moscow is claiming East Berlin is part of East Germany, the statement said. It added:

"What must be taken seriously by the whole world, however, is the scarcely veiled threat of aggression against the Allied air routes to and from West Berlin."

The United States must serve a solemn warning to the Soviet Union that any interference by the Soviet government or its East German regime with free access to West Berlin would be an aggressive act for the consequences of which the Soviet government would bear full responsibility."

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said a formal diplomatic note, co-ordinated among the Western Big Four powers, will be sent in reply to the Russian note within a few days.
